

Create an Account | Recover Your Password | Create a Forum Post

About | Submit a Tip |

Username: Password:

Topics Neighborhoods

METROPOLITAN

« Pols on Newtown: Superfund Us! Landmarks to Consider Prospect Heights Historic District »

July 14, 2008

Belltel/Real World Marriage on the Rocks?

Six weeks after the announcement (and subsequent media frenzy) that the next installment of the MTV show The Real World would take place in the BellTel in Downtown Brooklyn, a blog by the agency that books appearances for the show's casts is reporting that the deal may be delayed, or even called off, because of the pace of construction. The MM Agency blog reports that the best-case scenario for filming to begin is mid-August; it also says that filming is supposed to conclude by November 17. Then the bombshell: "An intern from Hunter College who is working for MTV provided an interesting statement that The Real World may not even film there because they were having some issues with the BellTel Lofts building with the location at 116 Third Place in Carroll Gardens as the backup." Zoinks!

SOARING 30 STORIES INTO THE SKY, BROOKLYN'S HOTTEST ROOFTOP IS OPEN

JOIN US WEDNESDAYS 6-8 PM

TOUR MODEL HOMES AND DRINK IN THE VIEWS FROM FORTÉ'S ROOFTOP